About Roads to Recovery

Roads to Recovery is a parent founded non-profit organization serving families in the greater Dayton area who are impacted by Autism Spectrum Disorders. Since first opening its doors in 2009, Roads to Recovery has grown! We are an Autism Resource Center that offers an individualized 1:1 applied behavior analysis (ABA) program that is tailored to students' specific goals, interests, and growth in mind. Staff working with students at Roads to Recovery are either Registered Behavior Technicians or Instructional Assistant Aides. Board Certified Behavior Analysts (BCBA's) provide oversight on all student programs at Roads.

Our two resource center locations offer families a prepared environment for their individual programs. Each center features individual classrooms, a gross motor "playroom," equipped with occupational therapy swings, a "Montessori" style group room that allows students to work on various shelf activities to improve specific skills, and a fenced-in playground area for more gross motor play. We also offer a Young Adult Social Group to individuals in the community who are interested in foraging friendships and building bonds with peers.
